BUCKTOWN / WICKER PARK

Bucktown / Wicker Park is famous for unparalleled boutique shopping, esoteric book stores and countless art galleries. If you have an acute knowledge of craft cocktails and an affinity for independent clothing designers, there's no better area to sip and shop in the country.

Retail in Bucktown / Wicker Park is a vibrant and eclectic mix that includes hip cafes, independent bookstores, raucous bars, expensive boutiques, art galleries, yoga studios and peaceful city parks. The neighborhood is a mecca for shoppers in search of the hottest New York and L.A. Fashions, and for foodies in search of a variety of cuisine from tacos to sushi.

Primary access to the neighborhood is provided by North, Western, Damen, and Milwaukee Avenues. North Avenue has a full interchange with Interstate 90 / 94. The neighborhood is also served by the CTA 'L' system, Chicago's rail transit system, with two Blue line stops within a 10 minute walk of 1601 N. Western. The 'L' also provides access to Chicago's Central Business District, other neighborhoods and Midway and O'Hare Airports. There are several bus routes through Bucktown / Wicker Park, cabs also frequent the area and Chicago's Divvy bike sharing stations are nearby, providing additional sources of transportation.

1601 N. Western is centrally located between two CTA blue line stations. The site is located an 8 minute walk from the CTA Western Blue Line 'L' station and a 10 minute walk from the CTA Damen Blue Line 'L' station. There is a #72 (North Avenue) bus and a #49 (Western Avenue) stop directly in front of the site.

1601 N. Western is a 5 minute walk from the Western Avenue access ramp to The 606, Chicago's elevated park & trail system. The 606 provides an urban oasis for the 80,000 people, including 20,000 children, who live within a ten-minute walk of the park system. It is also a resource for Chicagoans citywide, a transportation alternative and a tourist attraction that has garnered attention nationally and internationally.
